Program Overview
The Florida Department of Education (FDOE), Office of Student Financial Assistance, the governor-designated state administering agency, has developed a basis for the fair distribution of funding geographically and among the agencies employing state prosecutors, public defenders, and federal defenders; will coordinate the solicitation of applications by those offices; and collect nominations from those offices of applicants for awards. Applicants apply directly to their agency of employment, which decides, based on the programmatic criteria set forth by the U.S. Department of Justice and developed by a working group, which applicants should receive funding.

The allocation for fiscal year 2022-2023 is $185,548.00. Program Funds will be equally distributed between prosecutors and public defenders - $92,774.00 for prosecutors and $92,774.00 for public defenders.

Loan Eligibility

Eligible education loans include:
- Federal Family Education Loan Program (FFELP) and Federal Direct Stafford Loans;
- FFELP and Direct Graduate PLUS Loans;
- FFELP and Direct Consolidation Loans; and
- Federal Perkins Loans.

Non-eligible loans include:
- Federal Parent PLUS Loans;
- Federal Consolidation Loans used to repay Federal Parent PLUS Loans;
- Defaulted student loans;
- Non-federal student loans (private, commercial or alternative student loans); and
- Any eligible loans that have been paid in full.

Program Structure

- FDOE will allocate program funds to each agency employing qualified applicants. The minimum funding level will be $100 per agency. See 2022 Final Funding Distribution List.
- To determine the distribution amount, the Department of Legal Affairs (DLA) used personnel data from all of the qualified agencies to determine an average statewide salary for public defenders and an average statewide salary for prosecutors. Once statewide averages were established, DLA applied the Florida Price Level Index to adjust the salaries for cost of living. The allocation is based on total number of prosecutors and total number of defenders that fall below their respective adjusted statewide salary average, regardless of how many of those attorneys will be eligible for the program.
- The employing agency will calculate benefits to individual applicants based on a formula that ranks each applicant according to the applicant’s ability to pay his or her student loans. The formula accounts for family income, qualifying student loan debt and number of dependents.
- Income will be based on the applicant’s Adjusted Gross Income calculated from the Internal Revenue Service Form 1040.
- Employing agencies will forward a list of recommended applicants to FDOE on agency letterhead indicating how the funds should be distributed to each applicant.
- FDOE will announce award recipients.
- FDOE will remit proceeds directly to the lender/holder of the loan.
Program Procedures
The Application Packet will be distributed by the Justice Administrative Commission to each agency employing qualified applicants and on the FDOE website at http://www.floridastudentfinancialaid.org/FFELP/John_R_Justice/John_R_Justice.html.

- By November 30, 2022, applicants must submit an Application Packet to their employing agency with the following documentation:
  - An account statement from the lender showing the applicant’s eligible education loan debt obligations and monthly payments.
  - 2021 Federal 1040 form (pages one and two.)
- If the Application Packet is incomplete, the employing agency will notify the applicant who will have an opportunity to furnish the missing information. Consideration for an award will be given only if all documents are complete and received by the employing agency by the application deadline.
- FDOE must receive employing agency recommendations and original applications on or before December 30, 2022.
- FDOE will likely distribute funds in March 2023.

Selection of Recipients
- The eligible employing agency shall select recipients from those who have submitted a complete Application Packet with all required documentation.
- Priority, in combination with the following criteria, will be given to prior recipients and those who file timely applications.
- Agencies will rank each qualified applicant starting with those individuals that are determined to have the least ability to repay their student loans.
- Agencies will select applicants who are not receiving benefits under another loan repayment assistance program before selecting applicants who are receiving such benefits.
- Agencies may consider academic achievement (e.g., class rank, GPA, academic honors); meritorious service (e.g., high mark job evaluations); the ratio of the beneficiary’s total education debt to total assets; and/or the beneficiary’s non-educational debt financial obligations.
- In the event that not enough applicants from a particular employing agency apply, or qualify for, the program, the remaining funds will be reallocated by the FDOE.
