

News To Know

Florida Department of Education

The Office of Student Financial Assistance is pleased to announce the upcoming 2013-14 National Training for Counselors & Mentors (NT4CM).

2012
September

The National Training for Counselors and Mentors (NT4CM) provides free training and support for counselors and mentors who assist students and their families in preparing financially for college. Professional trainers provide comprehensive, up-to-date information regarding federal and state student aid programs, scholarship searches, and financial aid fraud. Participants learn how to access free resources such as fact sheets, brochures, and PowerPoint presentations to help them educate their students about the financial challenges associated with pursuing a postsecondary education. After the initial training, participants continue to receive ongoing information and support during the academic year.

NT4CM is available for any individual who advises students and their families on how to fund education beyond high school.

Registration is open for: Miami, Naples, Orlando, Panhandle, and Pembroke Pines.

Tampa will soon open.

Important Announcements

Shopping Sheet

As part of an ongoing effort to help students understand the costs of a postsecondary education each academic year, the U.S. Department of Education (ED) has prepared a "Shopping Sheet." This individualized standard financial aid form assists students with understanding their costs before making the final decision on which postsecondary institution to enroll. The Shopping Sheet, developed by ED partnered with the Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, will allow students to easily compare financial aid packages offered by different postsecondary institutions.

In addition, the Shopping Sheet clarifies the costs and responsibilities of student loans before students have enrolled. It outlines their total estimated annual costs, institutional rates of completion and default, and provides information about students' potential monthly loan payments after graduation. Ultimately, this tool provides students and their families with useful information that can assist students in making a logical decision about where to attend college as well as help them better understand the debt burdens they may face after graduation.

Institutions of higher education interested in adopting the Shopping Sheet may contact ED at ShoppingSheet@ed.gov for additional information.

The OSFA Philosophy

The Office of Student Financial Assistance (OSFA) has the ability to offer its partners and customers something few public agencies can, the ability to shape OSFA programs and services based on their specific needs and concerns. OSFA provides financial aid workshops, publications, better services for participants, and helps fund scholarship and grant programs. If a participant has a problem or suggestion, the OSFA management team listens and makes every effort to implement a solution that meets their needs. Public dollars deserve the kind of accountability OSFA provides in financing education.
